ÝAŞ DIPLOMATYŇ SESI

Children are the future prospects of society. The traits, culture and uniqueness of the community are passed down from generation to generation. Therefore, society should protect and value them. Service is the responsibility of parents, families, communities, and the nation.

Children are the future of the world and the seed of our future. The better the nutrition, the healthier the plant. The more we take care of them, the better our future will be. They are going to be the leaders of tomorrow and will make decisions, choices that will directly affect our generation. Children are flexible, so it is up to us to mold them well and show them in the right direction. However, who specifically is going to mold these children? Working six to eight hours a day, five days a week, teachers can become one of the most influential people in a child's life. After the parents, the children first learn from their teachers.

As it is known, International Children's Day is celebrated annually on June 1 in different parts of the world as an initiative for children's well-being and rights. This day is celebrated as part of a greater cause that revolves around ending child abuse, ending the deprivation of children of their rights, and making efforts to improve the lives of children all around the world.

According to sources, International Children's Day is a commemorative day in honor of children worldwide. Celebrated as part of the 1925 Proclamation in Geneva at the World Conference on Child Welfare, the day is observed on different dates in different parts of the world. Some countries celebrate it in June, some in November, but the aim of the day has always been the same.

UNICEF is considered an organization that supports all activities undertaken by governments to protect children.

Child Protection is universal: it is for all children everywhere, from low- to high-income countries. The vision of the UNICEF Child Protection Strategy is a world where all children are free from violence, exploitation, abuse, neglect and harmful practices.

UNICEF works in over 190 countries and territories to save children's lives, to defend their rights, and to help them fulfill their potential, from early childhood through adolescence. And we never give up.

Our children are the future of the world

It should be noted that Ashgabat, 06 May 2021: UNICEF and the Institute of State, Law and Democracy of Turkmenistan have organized a meeting with the Working Group of the Inter-Ministerial Commission on the implementation of the International Obligations of Turkmenistan in the area of Human Rights and International Humanitarian Law.

The main objective of the meeting was to discuss the priority actions of the joint work plan on Justice for Children and Child Protection Systems in Turkmenistan for the period of 2021-2022 within the Country Programme of Cooperation between UNICEF and the Government of Turkmenistan for 2021-2025.

The work plan serves as the basis for the joint efforts of the Inter-Ministerial Commission on Human Rights and UNICEF to achieve the Goal 5 of the National Plan of Action for Realization of Child Rights in Turkmenistan for 2018-2022 and to initiate the development of a long-term Strategy and Programme on Justice for Children.

"UNICEF remains committed to provide technical support to the Government of Turkmenistan to advance the child protection and juvenile justice program in the country for the benefit of all children," said Alexandru Nartea, UNICEF Deputy Representative in Turkmenistan.

In this regard, our independent state has acceded to a number of important international legal norms, including the World Declaration on ensuring the life, protection and development of children, the UN Convention on the Protection of Children's Rights. Being a member of the Executive Board of the United Nations Children's Fund and the Commission on the Status of Women, Turkmenistan works together to protect the health of children, provide them with high-quality education, and ensure the safety of future generations.

The National Leader of Turkmen People, our Hero Arkadag notes that it is important to develop broad cooperation in these areas, including cooperation with UNICEF, which actively participates in the successful implementation of mother and child protection programs in our country.

It is necessary to note that there is the Charitable Foundation for Assistance to Children in Need of Guardianship forename Gurbanguly Berdimuhamedov. As it is known that The Charity Foundation was established in March 2021. It finances the provision of medical and educational services, as well as covers the costs for proper rest and development of children in need of care.

As it is known that the June program starts with festive celebrations on the occasion of the International Children's Day. On June 2, the summer holiday season starts in the children's health resort of Gokdere and traditionally the departure of bus "caravans" with schoolchildren to the camps takes place, which is accompanied by fun performances.

It should be noted that according to the country's official media reports in 2022, our esteemed President visited the "Döwletliler Köşgi" (Palace of Orphans) on Tuesday on the occasion of the International Children's Day and took part in the festive event. There, our esteemed President met with the children and inquired about their well-being, activities during their free time, studies and academic achievements. Having congratulated the children of "Döwletliler Köşgi" on the International Children's Day and on the successful completion of their studies, our esteemed President said the state always takes care that children have a good rest, receive high-quality education and upbringing.

It is necessary to mention that speaking about the International Children's Day that this date is of great importance in the life of society and children. It is obvious that the state support for large families in the future, it is planned to develop appropriate legal acts, which means that the activities, are being carried out in this area are aimed at building a happy life for the children of whom we are proud of. We can proudly say that the important work is being carried out in our country to constantly provide the children's health care system with specialists that meet international requirements in the field of medicines and health protection products, and to strengthen the material and technical bases of health care.
